Speaks in Parliament

(cont. from last week)

As an example, let us consider the situation with regard to eggs. Under the former system of support, with government purchase at a floor price level, the support was given to the producer and the packer. In effect, they had a daily floor price. All their storage costs became government costs for which the government paid them. Then the government started to pay storage. The effect was to give these people free inventory and free cold storage plants. It also gave them an incentive to become producers to complete the cycle of a government-guaranteed business.

Opponents of the present plan suggest that the government should have reduced the support, and say this would have accomplished the same thing. Not at all. The reduction of the support price would have killed the family farm and handed production over to large integrated units which would then have had control and been able to push up prices at will. The other disadvantage of government purchase was that people concerned with the trade would never venture to export markets because they were never obliged to. They left that to the government, and sold all their excess to the government.

The principle of deficiency payments in this field is an absolute necessity if we are going to support the family farm, and if we intend to have a healthy, independent, agricultural economy. The mechanics of this program will have to be worked out. There are bound to be some wrinkles. We expect that, and look forward to trying to make this plan work.

It has also become apparent with regard to eggs that the trade has done everything possible to finance the farmer to displace this plan, because it takes the trade off the gravy train. One look at the price spread between one province and another will convince one that there is some manipulation of prices going on. Certainly it does not cost 12 to 18 cents to ship a dozen eggs from Alberta to Ontario, yet this has been the spread at various times over the past few months. Now the spread is down to 4 and 5 cents between Alberta and Ontario, and this 5 cents between Alberta and Ontario, and this is the way it should be. This proves how wrong the hon. member for Drummond-Arthurs (Mr. Boulanger) was when he said, as reported at page 25 of Hansard, that western farmers would be the hardest hit by this legislation in view of the price gap in relation to other parts of the country.

It was quite wrong when the hon. member for Timiskaming (Mr. Peten) stated that we did not discuss this program. Of course we did. I spent most of the summer discussing the program with farmers throughout my constituency, and I have yet to hear one say that the old program was better. They are willing to accept this program. We have to get behind it and show them it can work. It is not in the best interests of the country for people who know nothing about the program and who do not understand it to stand up in this house and call it down, as some have done. I should like to say a word with regard to the sheep industry in Canada. I would urge the minister to give serious and favourable consideration to the report and recommendations which were brought in by the sheep committee in the latter part of 1959. Further to their recommendations, I believe that a standardized system of carcass grading is absolutely essential to the prosperity of our sheep industry and should be considered along with the other recommendations in this regard.

From time to time, as legislation is brought before this house on matters which have had particular reference to western Canada, we have heard a great deal of noise from the opposition benches in regard to what they would like for areas from which they come. We heard on one occasion last year, during discussion of a western farm bill, a discussion on codfish. This year we have heard discussions on soybeans and other things in eastern Canada. I can assure the house that we in western Canada realize and are willing to work on problems of other areas, but we do have regional problems that can only be settled in a regional way. We feel it is a matter of disrespect to western Canada for these hon. members to continue to act as they have in the last year or two each time western legislation has been before the house.

Food for thought

By: Danita Boling.

We are off to a young start on this business of 'to buy' with our Provincial Recreation Grant. By the time the Public Meeting is held on March 26th there ought to be enough people present to fill the tank full of over flowing. Last week I did not try to influence anyone's decision except to suggest that all of you consider the need and the cost of construction and maintenance of any of the recommended projects. In the same paper, The Editor came out with rumpus building pool. "Lena build a swimming pool!" He liked to have a good reason why a pool was the only thing that should be considered. He also said that there are enough civic organizations in town interested to see that a swimming pool built which would help out in fund raising drives. The difference between the amount of the grant and the cost of a pool is almost double and that is a pretty sizeable amount to raise in a fund raising campaign. It is also my understanding that to get the grant, the plan for its use must be approved by the government and pool that the province would be available. A half a pool is no pool so we must know where the needed money is coming from. The reasons, listed by The Editor, for having a pool concerned mainly about the learning to swim. We all know it is important to know how to swim especially in this day and age of such active water sports but swimmers and non-swimmers alike are drowned, mainly because the life jacket law is ignored. In aquatic sports it is not falling into the water that drowns people; it is the fact that without life jackets one is extremely vulnerable to being overturned and hit on the head or body somehow, which incapacitates one's physical ability to help oneself. Statistics show that it is swimmers who consider themselves invulnerable enough not to have to wear life jackets. The non-swimmers are only too glad to use all the protective devices that are available so in the aquatic sports, boating and skiing, the swimmers have a higher mortality rate than non-swimmers and take many more chances. Don't for a minute think that it is now games on my part as I learned to swim when I was four years old and I've always loved the sport but I realize that under certain conditions to called delinquency problem anyway? One young people are not squashed into a wall of concrete tenement houses with nothing to do. They don't have to go over 1/2 mile until the great outdoors is at their feet. One more question, Editor! How many of these towns that you spoke of, that have pools, are without a respectable community hall to service the community? Let's get the two subjects separate in our minds, recreation and athletics!

Recreation reaches all people in some form. Athletics are limited to physical endeavors and some people, for various reasons, cannot participate in Athletics yet they need recreation. A good Hall can cover many needs of recreation as well as carry its share of the load for Athletics. I'll go on record as favoring a well equipped Recreation Hall built in such a way that in the future, as time and money allow, we can increase its capacity and service. I can't promise that our civic organizations will offer anything toward it as that is their decision to make but I do feel that help, within reason, might be hoped for in the way of equipping a hall with chairs, tables, dishes etc. Ask any of the hard working ladies organizations what they think of having a place to cater dinners where they can walk in and prepare a meal and not have to spend the entire day hauling equipment they need. Ask the various organizations that are desperate for meeting places that they think of it. After the Hall dining room has been remodelled it will not be a favorably arranged for the functions we have used it for in the past and I understand it will not be able to accommodate as many people. Do not lean too heavily on the school gym either. Schools are, first of all, for the education and in programs. That precedes any of our requests. They also have certain strict rules and it is not permissible to charge for any admission to athletic events such as boxing. In fact the rules forbid a boxing ring being put up in the school gym. So consider the limitations of using the School Gym. I would like to see our town use the grant money to build something, somewhere, within fairly close range of the alienated money, something that is useful twelve months of the year, something that offers a diversified program and something of which we can be proud. I shall be judged by what I've tried to do, not what I've done." (Garrison)

School Boze

By: Rupert Abbott

The contents of a student's test should count far more than the look, but sometimes it also contains a few odd scribbles in statements of the student's own. Such is the very recent entry into a text that read as follows:

"The Year is 1960. Today at 11:55 we started our math class. I can tell by the work Mr. McManus is doing on the board, that I shall never pass math this year due to my neglect of home-work assignments and review work. Let me tell you young student; you only live once, make the best out of your life. I truly believe one of the best things you can do is get your education. I know from experience that just having fun isn't going to be enough. It may seem to be everything at the time, but just stop and think. I mean really think: about yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Don't ever forget that your future is based on yesterday, today, and tomorrow. You can't succeed in laying a strong foundation for your future if you don't settle down and get an education....."

This bit of writing deserves a great deal of thought; for it is more than just an idle statement but a conclusion that is bothering a student. So much so, that it was written to serve as a standing warning to those that will follow him—to warn against wasted time and it's results. This message now serves as a warning to everyone, a rude reminder that very soon we'll be having our final examinations. Are we really for them? If not, now is the time to start preparing—before it is too late.

In writing this I hope that some of my fellow students will begin to feel as our friend has and do something about it before we all regret our neglect also.

To get back to the lighter side of things; the renowned club of 'teens in our town, known as Teen Town, had a wonderful turn-out for their dance last Saturday. Chaperones for the event were Mr. Bob Simon, known as Drayton's oldest teenager, and Mrs. Simon, and Mr. and Mrs. Dixon. The Pembina Pipe Line Orchestra supplied the music, Mr. Simon the comedy, and all teens present enjoyed both to the full extent. Deadline for either re-newing your membership or for joining this fast growing club is March 12th and the membership fee is fifty cents. Teens that are interested must be between the ages of thirteen and nineteen and should obtain their cards from Louise Sennas real quick-like. Join now and enjoy being a part of Drayton's Teen Town Club.

The red carpet is rolled out to welcome a new, and very welcome, face to our mid-size Little Sharon Lee Middle, formerly of Wainwright. Sharon was attending the Lolo Mabey Senior High School in Wainwright and moved into Drayton just in time for our move into the new High School. Welcome news to the boys of Drayton if the fact that she likes 'em - all of 'em. She is staying with her sister and brother-in-law in Drayton as her folks are still in Wainwright, and reports that she likes our town. Like—soon she'll live it, that is if that young gentleman that has been to the show last Friday night has anything to say about it.

Until next week, adios amigos.

Library Meeting

On the evening of Monday February 29/60 a board meeting was held in the Library with 11 members present. The main topic on the agenda was the move into the new town hall. The library will be closed for two weeks on the evening of Tuesday March 1, 1960. The move is expected to be made in about two weeks.

The resignation of Mrs. Christoferson, (Treasurer) was received with regret. An election was held, and Mrs. Dick Shall was voted in. A move was made by the Chairman to hold another meeting in early April.

The Chief Librarian Mrs. Kraus gave her annual report. It was interesting to learn that we have only 30 adult members in comparison to 477 children. There was a turnover of some 5,000 books. We urge more adults to join the library as we have a lot of excellent fiction, mystery and non-fiction books.

Lari Clermont, Publicity Chairman.

for the magazine sale drive sponsored by the W.I. The drive will begin in approximately two weeks. W.I. will use its share of the proceeds to buy a wheel chair for use in the community.

The Evans Mack Family is having much more than its rightful share of poor health. At present Mrs. Black, Leslie and Ellen are all under the Doctor's care. Hope you are all feeling much better soon, folks.

Bob Dentler was dishing about at six a.m. on Tuesday, rounding members of his family and close friends with a beaming, "It's a girl!" Mother and daughter are well, but it is feared that the excitement may be too much for Dad.

We should like to take this opportunity to extend our heartfelt congratulations to Mrs. James Key who has completed her training at the University Hospital and is now a full fledged R.N. Ms. Kay is to be on the Drayton Valley Hospital staff.

Letter To the Editor:-

Dear Editor:
It is about time this "beef" was brought out in the open.
It concerns little children, who need the protection of teachers. One case in particular stands out, but there are many others.
This little lad is properly dressed when sent to school. Yet has had to come home minus several articles of clothing. But when he lost his shoe that was it. He took them off to go into the gym, evidently they walked away. He asked his teacher, his mother phoned about them, all to no avail.

Apart from the additional expense all this has caused, this little tyke walked home in only his overalls and caught a severe cold. He missed school for days, suffered needlessly, and for no good reason.

Somebody should see that these little people are warmly dressed, when leaving school. Not send them home in zero weather without a pair of shoes, which they had on when they went to school.

There is neglect somewhere, and it should be looked into!
Sincerely,
A Mother.

Buildings & Youth

The vacant lot may be next door, it may be across the street or down the block. If the lot is a neighbourhood junk yard and nuisance ground you look at it with distaste and disfavor. If it should happen to be a cleared and grassy lot you appreciate it as a place where the younger members of the family can wear off a bit of the excess energy with which they constantly abound. If it is a wooded lot it makes a wonderful rendezvous for the young adventurer, and you welcome it.

One-day the lot is invaded by a great, noisy, and ugly mechanical monster that roars back and forth in an eccentric manner, or so it seems, pushing great amounts of earth before it, and depositing it to unsightly mounds at the edge of the lot. When the huge machine rumbles off to work its vengeance elsewhere it has left in its wake a great gaping hole.

Presently the customary quiet of the neighbourhood is again shattered by the sound of saw and hammer. As the weeks pass by a building begins to take shape. With keen interest you watch the various processes of construction. You want to know who the contractor is and what kind and quality of materials and workmanship. Your interest in the building is purely impersonal. It is not yours and you have nothing to say about the plans or construction. Yet, I dare say, you shake your head with regret if you discover that the workmanship is poor and slipshod, or the materials are of low quality.

Did you realize each one of us who are parents are building? The buildings which we build are infinitely more precious than those of wood or stone. We are building the lives of our children. But do you know, we too often look at the quality of materials and workmanship that go into their lives with less interest than we do of the house in the once vacant lot. With careless indifference we allow them to read or watch or do that which is of a predatory character. We watch with evident disinterest as scenes and studies of violence and immorality make waste the lives of those who God has entrusted to our charge.

Churches throughout our land are treating the importance of building into the lives of our youth that which is good, noble and spiritual. Your Church is vitally interested in the spiritual welfare of your youth. She tries to guard them with jealous care against those influences that would tend to deplete and make waste of their life, and to implant in their heart and mind those things that engender godliness and proper consideration for their fellowmen. We feel that it requires the concerted efforts of church and home to build of these young lives, men and women who will fill their post as leaders and champions of right in the citizenry of tomorrow. Both the church and home are essential institutions, each with her designated task in the building of our youth. Neither date far into history.

Jehovah's WITNESSES NEWS

Drayton Valley Congregation described the film as an "inspiration to all people interested in world conditions when God's Will is finally done on this earth."

Several members from the local congregation had parts on the program which was designed to highlight the theme "Do the Divine Will". Mr. Wikander said that the number of ministers in the area has increased 35% the last year. An average of 104 ministers spend 855 hours each month calling on the homes of the people.

Some thirty delegates from Drayton Valley attended the three day Jehovah's Witnesses Assembly in Edmonton last week-end. They were among the attentive audience who heard Mr. C. E. Hapworth of the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society discuss the subject "When is God's Will to be Done on Earth". Mr. Hapworth speaking in the Nova Theatre, told his audience "the a group of men and women would promote peace on earth during these troublesome times. These peace makers would put their faith not in armistices and uneasy truces of men, but in the everlasting peace that God has promised to establish in our time through his Kingdom of Righteousness".

ministers were obtained. One of these was Mr. E. T. Field of Drayton Valley. During the Ordination talk Mr. Hapworth stressed that "God does not force anyone to serve him. One must make a dedication of his own free will and then symbolize this dedication by being completely immersed in water."

Saturday evening over 200 persons gathered in the school auditorium to see the color film "The Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses". The opening scene of the film showed the Bible words, "They shall beat their swords into plowshares" from Isa. 2:4. Following this came filmed evidence that this prophecy can become a reality through God's Kingdom. Mr. Ralph Wikander, presiding Minister of the Drayton Valley Congregation described the film as an "inspiration to all people interested in world conditions when God's Will is finally done on this earth."

BOY SCOUTS TAKE TRIP TO CANIN

Thirteen Scouts of Drayton Valley in Boy Scout Troop went out to the Pembina River on a recent, week-end. Object of the trip was to prepare the Scout cabin there for over-night camping.

Next trip planned to the cabin is for March 4th, Friday, until Sunday morning. It is hoped that they will return on Sunday in time for church.

LIONS BONSPIEL

After his basic Naval training is over, Teddy Oscar will be home for a brief furlough with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Oscar, in Easford.

David MacLure will also be home to visit his mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. MacLure.

All three of the boys are reported to have been assigned to different ships and will soon be seeing the world through a porthole or a tarpaulin tube.

From Scoop's Notebook

Visitor to Drayton Valley while on furlough recently was Pfc. (Mia) Grace Campbell. Grace had just come down from Fort Churchill where she is in the army hospital. She now has two years of her three-year Army hitch behind her and is starting on her third. From here, after her furlough is over she will return to Kingston, where she took her basic training, in the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. She is not sure (no one ever is in the Army) but she thinks that Kingston is merely a way-stop on her way to Egypt.

"The Links of the Chain" is the name the Noddy family gives to their new-letters which have been circulating all over the world, dated, among Noddy kindred for about fifty years.

The way the letter operates, (or is operated) is it comes to X and Mr. and Mrs. X put in news of all the little's etc. and maybe a snapshot or two, then they read all the other letters in the big envelope and send it on to the next one on the list. The letter goes to many of the States of the U.S., in different places in Canada, over to Europe, Norway, and other countries there; down to Africa where a missionary family reads it and puts in the latest news of their family.

When it returns to the X's again, they take out the letter they sent on the previous circuit, write a new one, slip it in, read the new letter and start the "News Letter" circulating again. Sounds like a wonderful idea. Wally Noddy's grandfather started it just after

The middle-aged man's wife had been badgering him for days to take some "your pills" she bought for him. He finally relented and took several before going to bed.

Next morning she found it difficult to wake him. She shook him repeatedly and yelled, "Get up, it's time you were out of bed!"

"All right, all right," he answered, eyes squinted. "I'll get up but I won't go to school."

P.C. Annual Meeting

A very large and enthusiastic crowd of Progressive-Conservative gathered in a convention hall in the MacDonald Hotel on Friday and Saturday, last, for the Annual Provincial P.-C. Convention.

One thing that could not fail to make an impression on those gathered there was the extreme youthfulness of the larger part of the delegates. When one realizes that the Progressive-Conservative party has never before been very strong in Alberta and has come from a long way in the past to become the second largest political party in the province, they will sympathize what a political force these young men will be in the future.

In spite of the debate at the last election when Social Credit Party was returned to office with an overwhelming majority, the very pressure of these things young politicians will be bound, within a very few years, to make its mark upon the political structure of this province. Whereas the Social Credit party very largely revolves around the personality of a single figure, in able and astute leader, the Hon. E.C. Manning, the new resurgence of the Progressive-Conservative party in this province will eventually turn up some unusually able young leaders.

Chosen as interim leader for the provincial party was its only representative in the Legislature, Mr. Brent Warkins, of Calgary. Mr. Warkins will be the party's representative until such a time as a regular leadership convention is called, in perhaps a year. Long time provincial leader W.J.C. "Cam" Kirby, of Red Deer, officially resigned as party leader in the opening session of the convention. Chosen to succeed Mr. Roy Deyell, as president of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association, was Dr. A.H. Lane, of Edmonton.

A number of resolutions were presented to the session the last afternoon of the convention. One of these dealt with the establishing of a veterinary college in connection with the University of Alberta. Another resolution condemned the proposed provincial industrial tax and called for its non-passage.

The convention closed with a banquet in the MacDonald, Speaker for the banquet was Senator S. Thorvalson, of Winnipeg. Mr. Thorvalson is National President.

Lions Regular Meeting

Drayton Valley Lions Club held their regular dinner meeting Tuesday evening, March 2nd, at a very good attendance of club members on hand, and several guests present.

Speaker for the evening was Lion Buck McDonald, of Pembina Pipe Line. Mr. McDonald spoke on various phases of the field. He stated that there are at present some 3150 productive wells in this field. Not all are producing oil at the present time however, as some are used for recovery wells: water wells, gas injection wells, and so on. Mr. McDonald said that this field has the greatest potential for secondary recovery of any field on the continent, which will give a long life for the field. The speaker mentioned automation in the oil industry. He stated that at the present time by far the largest amount of fully automatic batteries are in this field, more than in all the rest of Canada combined. He said that within five years it would be the most automated field on the continent.

"ANDY" TRIMBLE LEAVES

Andy Trimble, one of the "old-timers" of Drayton Valley, left the town in February, 1954, to leave for England where he will take over a business in North tingham, in the North of England. Andy worked for Mobil Oil while here in D.V. When he came home (Then Soncoy) had 3 wells, they now operate some 750.

Andy has always been interested in community affairs, and was on the first Scout committee when they organized in 1955. He was fairly famous for his tasty barbecues.

Born in Red Deer, he was raised in Turner Valley. He met Mrs. Trimble while he was in the army in England. Son Andrew and daughter Andrea were both born in England. The Tribbles leave here Friday, and will travel by boat to England.

A Message from "Your Pharmacist"

ARE ALL VITAMINS THE SAME? The food and drug laws require each manufacturer to state the ingredients and potency on the label. This does not guarantee the contents are correctly stated. WE DO NOT HAVE ENOUGH GOVERNMENT INSPECTORS. Many inferior vitamins are sold for years before they are detected. More than one-third of all condemned health remedies, seized by the government were defective vitamins and food supplements. THE VITAMINS WE SUPPLY MUST - 1. Be made by reliable pharmaceutical firms whose integrity is unquestioned. 2. They are standardized and assayed for purity and accuracy. Each bottle is coded. Then, after packaging, they can be re-tested and recalled if potency lessens.

HOW ARE CHEAP VITAMINS MADE? When low price is the chief objective, many important tests are eliminated. Expensive controls during manufacture cannot be used. The amount of vitamins finally absorbed is questionable. YOU CAN DEPEND ON VITAMINS WE SUPPLY. They are fairly priced and absolutely dependable. Do not gamble with your health. Let our knowledge and reputation protect you.

Restaurant Holdup

The Pembina Gardens at closing time on Saturday night was the scene of an attempted robbery at gun-point when Arthur Doehl entered the cafe just as the proprietor, Mr. Dave Chow, was starting to close for the day, and demanded the cash in the till.

According to Mr. Chow, a lone customer had just finished a cup of coffee and unlocked the door to go out. Mr. Chow followed him to the door to relock it behind him when the accused appeared and pushed his way into the restaurant. Two others were with Doehl, but Mr. Chow succeeded in pushing them out and locking the door; however, the accused remained, pulled out the gun and demanded the cash in the till. Said Mr. Chow, "Look, I have no time to play! Better shove off and go home" and the proprietor then showed the gun aside. "I'm not fooling, this is the real thing. Don't play around with me. I mean business," said the would-be robber.

Dave realized that the gun was very real and tried to figure how to work it out. In the meantime, while they argued other late customers had come up to the door and one of them, Gerry Poltem hit Doehl on the jaw, and knocked him cold. Mr. Chow then took the gun and went to get the police. R.C.M.P. officers and Town Police arrived on the scene at about the same time and took the man into custody. The next day the other man involved in the affair was taken into custody and both appeared before Magistrate Clendenen in Drayton Valley Police Court on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Doehl was charged with attempted theft while armed and Mr. Al Stevens, who had come up to the restaurant with Doehl was charged with being an accessory to the fact. Both were remanded in custody for one week and will appear before Magistrate Clendenen next week for sentencing.

District Personalities

Mr. Allen M. Casey

Big, genial Allen M. (Al) Casey is the subject of this week's "Personalities" review. Al was born in Westaustralia and raised in High River, where he went to school. In 1943 he joined the Prince of Wales Dragoon Guards and went overseas where he served with the army in Belgium, Holland and Germany. Discharged from the service in May, 1946, he went to live in Leithbridge, where he worked for a construction company on highway construction. In the fall of 1948 he went to work for Imperial Oil Company in Devon. He was with Imperial for one year and then joined the Oil and Gas Conservation Board. He was stationed at Devon, and Redwater, and was transferred to Drayton Valley in November, 1954 and has been here ever (cont. Section B, col. 4)

First Event winners, Milt McMahon, H. Williamson, Stu. Lunan and Fred Lee. Milt McMahon and H. Williamson are seen here holding the Grand Challenge Trophy, donated by Pembina Pipe Line and Stu Lunan and Fred Lee are seen holding the Grand Aggregate Trophy, donated by Armco Drainage and Metal Products of Canada. In addition the rink won four miniature trophies, seen in the picture. Also won were four Golf cards, four barbecue grills and eight cartons of golf balls.

Winfield. Constable Wilson took to the police car with the thought that perhaps the men involved in the theft might have headed for Drayton Valley. About five minutes after he started cruising in search of the stolen car Constable Wilson caught sight of the vehicle and gave chase. The driver of the stolen car recognized that they were being pursued and took out at high speed on the east-bound highway. They crossed the bridge over the river; the R.C.M.P. car radioed ahead to the Drayton R.C.M.P. to put up a road block, but the stolen car was travelling too fast for the Drayton police to set up a road block so they joined in the chase, which often reached speeds of sixty miles an hour over the rough, eastbound highway.

The police cars radioed ahead to Leduc R.C.M.P. officers to set up a road block, which they did (cont. Section A, col. 4)
